

Explore the good, the bad and the downright ugly about how your body works at Grossology: The (Impolite) Science of the Human Body premiering October 2 in Rockford

Sometimes it's stinky. Sometimes it's crusty. And sometimes it's slimy. Explore why your body produces oozy, crusty, and stinky gunk at Grossology: The (Impolite) Science of the Human Body beginning Saturday, October 2 at Discovery Center and Burpee Museum's shared exhibit hall in Rockford. Based on the best-selling book Grossology, this exhibit tells you the good, the bad and the downright ugly about runny noses, body odor and other unmentionables. Take a "Tour du Nose" to explore 10 nasal features. Play the pinball game "Gas Attack". Mimic the build up of acid indigestion by causing the "Burp Machine" to release a giant belch. Climb a replica of human skin, take a ride on the GI slide, and discover other mysterious ways your body does what it needs to keep you healthy. Grossology will be in Rockford through January 2. Admission is $5 plus admission to either museum; $3 for members of either museum; or $15 Combo ticket which includes admission to Burpee, Discovery Center and Grossology. To find out more, log on to www.gorockford.com/grossology

Grossology Sponsors:
Rick & Cheryl Bischoff

