BLOOD CENTER

Straight From the Heart

Do you like to meet new people? Are you organized and looking for a job that is fun and fulfilling? If this sounds like you, you might be a good fit for our Donor Recruiter position. The Rock River Valley Blood Center is currently looking for a Donor Recruiter who will play a vital role in fulfilling the blood center's mission by recruiting partners for our mobile blood drive program. As part of the recruitment process, the Donor Recruiter develops and maintains relationships with members of the community who have hosted mobile drives in the past, or who might be interested in hosting a mobile drive in the future. The Donor Recruiter is responsible for the process of planning mobile blood drives, including scheduling drives, providing education to the public/media, and assisting with donor retention and donor recognition strategies. The Donor Recruiter works closely with drive chairpeople to ensure that drives are productive and is responsible for maintaining RRVBC's positive standing within the community.

The successful candidate will be customer oriented, have excellent communication and time management skills and have the ability to manage detailed projects. We're looking for candidates who can work with minimal supervision and communicate with tact and discretion, always keeping RRVBC's mission top of mind.

Requirements:

- High School diploma, Bachelor's degree preferred
- Will consider candidate with prior experience in business development, customer service or sales
- Travel in your own vehicle throughout the blood center's territory
